

Kiwanis Club of Madison West

KIWANOGRAM

Guests: Molly Broderick, guest of Ed Reisch.

Program: Attorney Amanda Gennerman discussed Immigration Law Issues and described some the complexities of the immigration law. Amanda gained her interest in Immigration Law when in law school at University of Denver and assisted someone from Sierra Leone with immigration issues.

Most immigrants enter the U. S. legally with a visa but often have problems when they over stay their visa time limit. The visa holders are in the country for a specific purpose and specific time. For immigrants who commit certain crimes are deported if convicted. But it may require many months before actual deportation meanwhile they are incarcerated. Many of Amanda’s clients have been experiencing domestic abuse and are frequently found in shelters.
