The Carolina Kiwanian will be published once a month at the end of each month for the 2008-09 Kiwanis year.
As I begin writing this today I am reminded of my last letter to you concluding on a sad note. Many of us were deeply saddened with the sudden passing of Rashale Arana. I have been passionate over the program that began and continues with a group of Mecklenburg Kiwanians who are committed to serving children throughout the world.

Although Rashale is no longer with us, the program will continue to reach out to others who are also in need of medical care. The Kiwanis International magazine will still publish their story in the February edition on Rashale and the Mecklenburg Kiwanis Club.

We are just a few days away from our MidYear Conference in Charlotte on January 30-31, 2009. Many have been working to make this an informative and inspirational weekend. We are honored to have Kiwanis International President-Elect Paul Palazzolo attend the conference. He will be our Friday evening guest speaker. We have received an overwhelming response to the CLO workshop on Friday afternoon. This weekend will also be an opportunity to hear from our Service Leadership Programs, our District projects and a presentation from Past Governor Stan Perry on the upcoming International Convention in Nashville this summer.

Our entertainment on Saturday evening promises to be an inspirational time. I’ll save telling you the rest of the story until Saturday night. If you have not had the opportunity to register for the conference, it is not too late.

Again, I want to thank all of you for what you are doing to make a difference in the lives of others. Our communities that are served through Kiwanis are more blessed because you are there and truly care.

Yours in Kiwanis Service,
Governor David
For many of us, January is a time of resolutions; well-intentioned plans that often go unfulfilled. As Kiwanians, we need to make some resolutions, too, but ours are too important to ignore or abandon. For if we let go, a child goes hungry or helpless or, worse, hopeless.

My resolutions are simple: I will attend every meeting I can, in my home club and when I am on the road meeting with my Kiwanis colleagues or meeting with partners and others as international president. I will be an active member, sharing more than just my time with my club. I will set an example, living the objects and mission of Kiwanis. I will tell our story, sharing the wonderful things that we—that you—do. I will invite friends, associates and strangers, too, to meetings.

What will your resolutions be? Will they be the usual “lose weight,” “exercise more,” resolutions, or will you be resolute in your Kiwanis promise to help a child? Get involved, give to the foundation, bring a guest to a meeting, engage your community, spread the word ..... offer a hand to a child.

Those are real Kiwanis resolutions.
Calling ALL Kiwanians! Calling ALL Kiwanians!

You’re invited to the MidYear Conference in Charlotte, January 30-31, 2009. Escape the boring winter blues, and enjoy great Kiwanis fun and fellowship. The Charlotte University Hilton will host the 2009 Carolina Kiwanis MidYear Conference. We’ve set our sights on a minimum of 400 Kiwanians. So, what’s in it for you? Not only will you learn more about Kiwanis, you’ll fellowship with your Kiwanis friends across North & South Carolina as well as other visiting Kiwanians. You’ll learn more about why you want to be more involved in Kiwanis, as well as have some fun!

FORUMS (Tentative)

TAG you’re it!
Are you a member of your district TAG (Together Achieving Growth) team or would you like to be? This interactive session will provide strategies for opening new clubs and strengthening existing clubs. You will learn the roles and responsibilities of the TAG team and a proven step-by-step process to make club building fun. You will leave the session armed with the resources and know-how to strengthen Kiwanis.

So You Want to be a District Leader
Interested in becoming a President, Lt. Governor, Trustee or Governor? This forum will answer your questions concerning the roles & responsibilities of each position.

Uptown Charlotte
Come learn how one of our newest clubs organized with close to 100 members and the unconventional techniques they used for membership recruitment.

High Impact Service
Would anyone in the community notice if your club disappeared? This workshop will identify service projects that will benefit your communities and have long-term impact on the children we serve. Bring your own ideas and join this discussion of what has worked and what has not in your club.

Leveraging Kiwanis Growth Using Service Leadership Programs
Service Leadership Programs can help grow your club. This workshop will introduce the new Kiwanian to Service Leadership Programs and instruct the seasoned Kiwanian on how to best utilize these programs for club growth.

Bridging the Generation Gap
Facebook, Text Speak, IM, ... How can we connect with today’s youth? What are the common threads? Does it sound like a foreign language when you hear today’s youth talking? Do you know what IDK, LOL or BRB means? If not, then you are not part of the Me Generation and most likely do not communicate via text messaging. This session will focus on communication between the generations. You will come away with the realization that we are not that different after all.

The Mint Hill Kiwanis Club supplied more than 600 dictionaries to every third-grader for four area schools, spending more than $1,000 on the project. The club received more than 30 handmade thank you cards from the students. They intend to make the dictionary donation an ongoing project.

The Raleigh Crabtree–Brier Creek club wrapped presents for 11 Guardian Ad Litem children. The gifts included clothes, toys, games and requested items such as a high chair for a one-year-old. As one of their regular projects, they shop for items on Saturdays and wrap them at their next meeting.

The Burlington Club presented it’s Citizen of the Year Award to Dr. Sam C. Powell at the clubs annual Christmas Banquet held at Alamance County Club. The Award is given to a citizen of Alamance County who has contributed to the betterment of our community by giving of himself or herself in various and sundry ways to enrich Alamance County and Burlington. Dr Powell was recognized for his accomplishments as an educator, medical researcher, soldier, a government leader, business man, a member of numerous boards and commissions, an advocate for the advancement of both the city of Burlington and Alamance County as well as an avid historian. Shown presenting the award are from left to right, Nelson Young President of Burlington Kiwanis, Karen Powell wife, Dr. Sam C. Powell and the Rev. Dr. Allen Sasser, vice president of Burlington Kiwanis.

Eight local organizations received early Christmas presents when the Kiwanis Club of Charleston gave $500 checks to each at the Dec. 18 meeting. The Boys & Girls Club, Crisis Ministries, HALO, Keep Charleston Beautiful, the Lowcountry Food Bank, My Sister’s House, Miracle League and Rein & Shine each received $500 from the Club. The organizations were selected because of their mission and commitment to serving children in the community.

Kiwanis Club of Fayetteville President George Quigley presented a $750.00 check to Karis King, (on the left), and Ray Walters, (on the right), of Fayetteville Technical Community College for FTCC Future Seekers. Future Seekers is an organization at Ramsey Street Middle School designed to assist the development of at-risk students. Approximately 150 were in attendance for the presentation on Friday, January 16, 2009.
The Catawba Valley Community College Circle K coordinated a toy collection for 130 needy children in their community. They set up two Salvation Army Angel Trees for students, faculty and staff to choose an angel and buy special gifts for the described child.

AKTION CLUB PROJECT SUPPORTS OUR TROOPS
The AKTION Club of South Mecklenburg recently assembled “care packages” for our US troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. Members filled shoe boxes with personal items and candy. And, each box contained a letter of appreciation to let the recipient know how much their service to our country is appreciated. The filled boxes were shipped off to the troops by the USO.
Builders Clubs are a sponsored youth program for middle school students. There are 28 Builders Clubs in the Carolinas District, all of which are active in their communities. The Builders Club of Ayden Grifton Middle School filled bags with sand for luminaries to be sold for their annual fund raiser. This same club volunteered time for the Give2Troops organization helping to collect and prepare items to be sent to our service personnel serving in foreign countries.

The Builders Club of Wake Forest- Rolesville Middle School helped with sorting and collecting paper to be recycled from each of the school’s classrooms. They also sponsored the school’s Coats for Children drive, donated cookies and cupcakes to a local orphanage and helped collect and deliver over 2,500 cans of food for the North Carolina Food Bank.

The Jamestown Middle School Builders Club held a Beach Bash as a fund raiser and had a great deal of fun putting on the event. Oh yes! They also raised $1,063 from the event, which will go towards the schools beautification project. They also donated $300 to Horsepower, a therapeutic equestrian program that provides both challenges and rewards to people with physical, mental, emotional, and social disabilities.

Of course, there is more, much more, but this gives you an idea of the great work being performed by the sponsoring Kiwanis Clubs, very special faculty advisors, and, most importantly, by great middle school Builders Club members.

Coming up in the spring, Kiwanis International is sponsoring three competitions for Builders Clubs, an essay competition, a speaker’s competition and a scrap book completion. We looking for spirited competition in all three categories. On April 17-18, we will hold a retreat at Camp Kanata in Wake Forest, NC. Because of a very generous grant from the Sheetz Corporation, we are offering 10 scholarships to the retreat. Builders Club sponsors and faculty members will receive information on the scholarships. Cost for the retreat is $75 per person and includes food, lodging, and a great low ropes program put on by the staff at the YMCA camp.
Club Satellite Can Help Launch Kiwanis Growth

As the launch of astronaut Alan Shepherd catapulted America into the space age and on to the moon, the launch of club satellites should help propel Kiwanis toward its million-member goal by 2015.

Club satellites provide a new means of growth for Kiwanis clubs, allowing for growth in locations where circumstances might not support the formation of a charter strength club. A club satellite enables a small group of individuals to become members of an existing, host club, but also to be able to separately meet and plan activities.

“The benefit is twofold,” said Don Canaday, international president and Kiwanis growth champion. “It allows the opportunity for Kiwanis to grow and for club satellite members to lend their hands to service, but it also sets the course to grow the satellite to charter strength so that it can perhaps someday charter as a separate club.”

Members of the club satellite are also members of the host club and governed by the host club’s board of directors, but they may—if they choose—establish their own meeting and project plans, or they can join in with the host club’s activities. The club satellite operates as a committee of the host club and may choose to select a chairperson to preside over meetings.

Some of the likely locations for formation of a club satellite include:
Small towns
  - Ethnic neighborhoods
  - Business parks
  - Retail locations
  - Young adults
  - Parents of Kiwanis’ Service Leadership Programs

Unlike charter clubs, there is no minimum for members needed, but like charter club members, the members of the club satellite will pay appropriate dues, to Kiwanis International and to the district. The host club secretary maintains all records and financial transactions, and for recordkeeping, the host club board approves bills, payments and deposits. Arrangements can be made, though, if desired, to separate funds raised by the club satellite.

Members of the club satellite may hold office, to, in the host club, another opportunity to further grow the club satellite into a full-strength Kiwanis club. In the event, the members forming the new club would not be counted as a loss to the former host club.

“It’s a win-win for men and women with Kiwanis hearts, for communities and for Kiwanis,” said Canaday.

Already club satellites are forming, including the Crow River club, a satellite of the St. Cloud Kiwanis Club in the Albertville-St. Michael, Minnesota, community.
Your Kiwanis General Liability Insurance Policy

By Doug Day, District Risk Manager

All District clubs should have received the KI General Liability 2008-2009 Risk Management Packet early in December. This packet is a very important tool, and the presidents and safety coordinators should become familiar with it. If your club did not receive this packet, please email Vicki Crabtree: vcrabtree@kiwanis.org. My insurance career in property and liability spans 45 plus years, including serving as a manager with a large insurance company and as an independent agent with an international broker. Therefore, you may feel free to give me a call regarding the program.

The first thing that a president should do is to appoint a safety coordinator. Most clubs will have within its membership someone in the insurance field and or someone in the legal profession. If not, choose someone who feels comfortable handling this position, is willing to learn the program and will take on the responsibility. Our clubs are very active with a variety of events that support what we do for the children of the world. It is very important that the safety coordinator be involved with the planning club events from start to finish, consulting and making sure all safety features are carried out. The responsibilities for the safety coordinator are outlined in the “Bulletin Special Release”. All of the six listed responsibilities are important, but please pay particular attention to the following:

1. "Understand the program of General Liability Insurance of KI.” It mentions that you should utilize the “You are Covered” pamphlet. (more about this pamphlet later) But if you study this pamphlet, it will definitely help you to understand the insurance policy.

4. “Attend all club events and be prepared to make on-the-spot corrections of hazardous situations.”

YOU ARE COVERED— The Comprehensive General Liability Insurance Policy (CGL) is intended to provide “legal liability” insurance for sums which insureds may become legally obligated to pay as damages to third parties for bodily injury (BI) or property damage (PD), arising out of a Kiwanis sponsored function or activity. The provisions of the policy apply to normal or routine Kiwanis club exposures. It is a standard Comprehensive General Liability Policy and contains the standard exclusions as most policies do. It is what it is and may not be altered, extended and no provisions may be waived. The major topics in this form, “You Are Covered”, are listed below, and presidents, secretaries and safety coordinators should read them carefully. Attention will be noted on topics if special emphasis should be placed on them.

WHO IS INSURED  LIMIT OF LIABILITY  COVERAGE

KEY EXCLUSIONS-Please review all exclusions, but specifically the reference to automobile.

ACTIVITIES INVOLVING OUTSIDE CONTRACTORS

CERTIFICATES-These will be discussed at the end of this article

SAFETY COORDINATORS  PREMIUM PAYMENT

Claim Reporting — Please read carefully and follow the instructions listed on the “How to Report a Liability Claim”. Never volunteer or suggest that a settlement may be offered and never admit to liability because it could complicate the settlement of a claim, should there be one.

TYPICAL QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS-These are great! Please read each of these “Q&A” (39) as they will help you with specific situations.

CERTIFICATES OF INSURANCE (proof of insurance coverage)— Certain events require that the club provide a “Certificate of Insurance”. This is routine for companies and organizations (Kiwanis) doing business with others companies/organizations that may be affected in a negative way by some act or failure to act to a third party, by the Kiwanis organization. The “Certificate of Insurance” provides information to the entity you are doing business with that you have insurance to protect them.

The Kiwanis Club may complete the "Certificate“ as directed by following the procedures outlined in the Certificate of Insurance Procedures. Please follow the instructions and do not alter any wording beyond what is given to you. (You may want to make extra copies of the certificate in the event you spoil your original). If the certificate holder requests special wording, such as “Additional Insured”, your club must call the office of the Insurance Company, Hylant Group (Adam Reiff or Denton Flahault, 800-442-7475 x 7179; Fax 1-317-817-5151). Or if any other situation arises you may call either of these two individuals.

CLAIMS — There are instructions on how to report a claim. Please read carefully and abide by the two comments made above under claims. Our premiums are dictated by claims we submit, (dollars and frequency). So, again, it is important that the "safety coordinator" be involved with all activities involving the public from start to finish.

RISK MANAGEMENT TECHNIQUES - This topic is last in this article, but you might want to start by reading this one first. It will get you started off in the right sequence.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE PROGRAM - If you need more information, you may call:

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS LIABILITY INSURANCE (D&O)
At the beginning of this Kiwanis year, Kiwanis International sent to the clubs a brochure on this topic. This coverage is to protect your officers and directors, committee chairs as well as club members from potential lawsuits or claims that may not be covered under other insurance. Lawsuits could result from a club’s failure to follow through on a project or event sponsored by the club, and claims challenging the club’s decisions or members behavior. The brochure is specific about what is covered and provides examples of claims that have occurred. Note that crime coverage is also available.

The D&O liability coverage is voluntary as KI does not require it. If you did not have this brochure, you may contact Vicki Crabtree by calling 800-KIWANIS, or email, vcrabtree@kiwanis.org.

I don’t believe I can add any more than what is provided for you in the Risk Management Packet, or the Directors and Officers Liability Insurance brochure, but just wanted to get your attention and solicit your questions.

BACKGROUND CHECKS
“Background Checks for district officers and adults working with youth may be required and should conform to applicable local and state laws and requirements. In the absence of local or state regulations, Kiwanis clubs are expected to undertake confidential background checks for all adults who will be working directly with youth outside of the school or who may not have undergone a background check.”

Background Checks for the Carolina District officers and adults working with youth will be addressed by the board at their next meeting. Background checks for the district club members are highly recommended, especially for any individual working with youth outside the school. Club officers/directors should address this at their next board meeting unless this has been done earlier. The ordering of these reports would be administered by the individual club through a company such as Equifax. The fee varies by state, but I’m told it would be approximately twenty to twenty-five dollars and would be the responsibility of each member unless the club makes other arrangements. The Background Checks would be for criminal activity and not a financial or credit check.

All Kiwanians should try to avoid situations that put them alone with a youth. Always make sure that another adult or at least two or more kids are in your company. Generally, common sense will help to eliminate awkward situations.

Please see the article available on our International website entitled Guidelines for Adults:
http://community.kiwanisone.org/media/p/2810.aspx
Congratulations to the following clubs for achieving Distinguished Club Status for the 2007-08 year! These awards will be highlighted at our Mid-Year Conference with patches available for clubs to take home with them. If your club cannot make this event, the District Office will be mailing your Club Secretary your patch.
