

Thanks to everyone that attended our happy hour at Wynkoop and the Sweet Dream packing event on Saturday! Here's what else is happening soon:

Let's Make This Group Awesome

Now that we have a solid foundation, we'd love for people to get more involved with planning and organizing this group. We're setting up a meeting to go over what's next for anyone interested in helping plan projects, recruit members, or organizing social activities. If you want to help out, fill out this doodle poll indicating your availability to get together over the next couple weeks. If none of these times work for you let Austin (austinraygood@gmail.com) know and we'll work something out. Location is TBD, we'll decide on a place that's convenient to those interested.

If you haven't already, you can indicate what you're interested in getting involved in by adding your name/interests to this google doc.

More Sweet Dreams

There are two other Sweet Dream in a bag events that need our help. Both are gifting events where you would help kids pick out their bedding and read them a story. One is this Friday at the Denver Rescue Mission and the other is this Saturday at the Salvation Army. Click here for more info and to RSVP.

Don't know what Sweet Dream in a Bag is? They're a 501 (c) (3), Public Charity mission is to gift children living in poverty with new bedding packages.

The children receiving bedding usually reside in a temporary housing during the time their family is attempting to rebuild their lives. Each child is screened for bedding needs by the case workers, teachers or agency managers.

Colorado Feeding Kids in Fort Collins and Brewery Crawl

Colorado Feeding Kids is a great organization that packages hundreds of thousands of meals for kids in poverty. The Kiwanis Club in Fort Collins is sponsoring a packing event and needs some extra hands. All of us that come can volunteer together, so it's a great social opportunity.

We can coordinate a carpool for anybody that wants to go up from the Denver area. After the volunteer project we can do a brewery crawl to a couple of Fort Collins' choice hot spots. Here's the meetup page to RSVP.

ALSO, YOU MUST SIGN UP ON THIS WEBSITE IN ADDITION TO RSVPing ON MEETUP: <http://fortcollinseyeopenerskiwanis.org/volunteer-with-us/colorado-feeding-kids-meal-packing-event-sign-up/>

March Happy Hour

Our next happy hour is March 7th! Location is still TBD, but you can RSVP for updates here.

Kiwanis Club of Denver Lunch Meetings

For those that don't know, this Young Professional's group is a spin off of the Kiwanis Club of Denver, a group that just recently celebrated 100 years of serving the Denver community. They meet every other Wednesday from 12pm-1:30pm at the Maggiano's at the Pavilions downtown. Members of the Young Professionals group are always welcome at these meetings (and they'll treat you to lunch!). Let Austin (austinraygood@gmail.com) know if you're interested in attending one of their upcoming meetings.
