UPCOMING PROGRAMS

March 7—Bill See will give a presentation portraying the older Brother Sam White talking about his own life and that of his more famous younger brother Byron White: "Sam White Reminisces"

March 14—Bryan Hunt, retired deputy District Attorney. Bryan had a long, and effective career in both Colorado Springs and Canon City. Through entertaining anecdotal stories, we will be given an insightful look inside the prosecution side of our criminal justice system. Bryan volunteers with Carroll Morony at the Colorado Welcome Center.

March 21—"Alaska Dog Sled Racing", Carroll Morony. From their Alaska cruise last summer, Carroll will present a powerpoint program to inform us about the dogs used for the famous Iditarod race, along with other races, as well as what is required of the mushers and teams. We will also experience the "dog sled summer camp" that is vital to keeping the dogs in shape.

March 28—Centennial High—Kent Brown

Two nuns in a grocery store saw beer for sale, and one said, "I've never had a beer in my life. Should we try it?"

"Okay," said the other, "but I'd be embarrassed at the check-out stand."

"I'll handle it." She told the clerk, "We wash our hair with this,"

He smiled, handed her a bag of pretzel sticks, and said, "The curlers are on the house."

Some One Liners to make you Smile.

Q: What do you call two fat people having a chat?

A: A heavy discussion.

Q: Why did the tomato turn red?

A: It saw the salad dressing!

Q: Did you hear about the painter who was hospitalized?

A: Reports say it was due to too many strokes.

Q: What did the triangle say to the circle?

A: You're pointless!

Q: What's easy to get into, but hard to get out of ?

A: Trouble.

Q: Have you heard the joke about the butter?

A: I better not tell you, it might spread.

Q: Why was the maths book sad?

A: Because it had too many problems.

Q: Why can't a leopard hide?

A: Because he's always spotted!

Q: Why did the barber win the race?

A: Because he took a short cut.

Q: Can February March?

A: No. But April May.

No one believes seniors ... everyone thinks they are senile.

An elderly couple was celebrating their sixtieth anniversary. The couple had married as childhood sweethearts and had moved back to their old neighborhood after they retired. Holding hands, they walked back to their old school. It was not locked, so they entered, and found the old desk they'd shared, where Andy had carved "I love you, Sally ."

On their way back home, a bag of money fell out of an armored car, practically landing at their feet. Sally quickly picked it up and, not sure what to do with it, they took it home. There, Sally counted the money-fifty thousand dollars! Andy said, "We've got to give it back." Sally said, "Finders keepers." She put the money back in the bag and hid it in their attic.

The next day, two police officers were canvassing the neighborhood-looking- for the money, and knocked on their door. "Pardon me, did either of you find a bag that fell out of an armored car yesterday?"

Sally said, "No". Andy said, "She's lying. She hid it up in the attic. Sally said, "Don't believe him, he's getting senile"

The agents turned to Andy and began to question him. One said: "Tell us the story from the beginning.

öWell, when Sally and I were walking home from school yesterdayí .ö

The first police officer turned to his partner and said, öWe're outta here!ö

A PARABLE TO MEDITATE ON (compliments of Byrd Curtis)

An old man, a boy and a donkey were going to town.

The boy rode on the donkey, and the old man walked.

As they went along they passed some people who remarked "What a shame, the old man is walking, the boy is riding."

The man and boy thought maybe the critics were right, so they changed positions.

Later they passed some people who remarked "What a shame, he makes that little boy walk".

So they decided they'd both walk.

Soon they passed some more people who remarked "They're really stupid to walk when they have a decent donkey to ride."

So they both decided to ride the donkey.

They passed some people who shamed them by saying "How awful to put such a load on a poor donkey."

The boy and the man figured they were probably right, so they decide to carry the donkey.

As they crossed the bridge, they lost their grip on the donkey; the donkey fell into the river and drowned.

The moral of the story: If you try to please everyone, you might as well kiss your ass goodbye.

TRIVIA.... Why is an outdoor bazaar called a "flea market"?

The first flea market was held in Paris, but the concept spread throughout Western Europe. Originally, to be a flea market the sale had to be outdoors and the goods secondhand. The assumption was that the old merchandise would gather fleas as well as customers.

Perhaps good to remember when you are yard-saling this summer.
