PROGRAM. At the Table Colorado representative Patricia Carmody explained the mission behind this organization. It brings people together from all walks of life to participate in a series of free, community-wide conversations about what makes their neighborhoods or regions great, and what can be done to make them even better. Launched by the Chicago Community Trust in 2014, the concept of open community conversations has spread to cities around the country with over 100,000 people involved. Volunteers host conversations with 8 to 12 persons over coffee or a meal. The first events in Colorado will take place on September 17-20, 2018. Everybody is welcome to participate and diversity is valued. It's all about "growing stronger communities through conversation." For more information, go to athtablecolorado.org.

NEWS. Thoughts were discussed for proposals to be presented at the International Conference in Las Vegas. Belenda Cornelius will contact Rick Couch about our participation in this year's What If Festival on September 8. Caroline and Harry Vulgamore will participate in the BUG program May 25 at Mesa Elementary. They could use another volunteer.
